

People v. Andre (A)

Conspiracy- to commit assault and/or battery on Durant with B, C and J. Mayhem?

Solicitation- to James to commit an assault and battery

Burglary- Durant's home – felonious intent upon the entry? Breaking? Dwelling house? Building within the curtilage?

Mayhem- Durant's hand- Natural and probable consequence of co-conspiratorial plan, despite agreement that the injury would not be permanent and James hatred for Durant

Larceny- Durant's hand (Is Loves' criminal intent a superseding cause breaking off causation?)

Homicide -of James. Felony murder? Did the death occur during the commission of a felony or in an effort from Durant to thwart the felony (Ireland)? Causation? Was there a superseding intervening cause? Mitigation?

People v. Bell (B)

Conspiracy- same as Andre above. Co-conspiratorial culpability for Burglary, Mayhem, Larceny, homicide-death of James. Did he effectively withdraw at any time by leaving a message with Andre and Cook? Natural and probable consequence.

People v. Cook (C)

Same as Andre and Bell above. Natural and probable consequence

People v. James (J)

Same as Andre above (Except homicide)

Did his unilateral plan break off culpability to A, B and C

People v. Durant (D)

Homicide- of James

Self- defense? Defense of habitation? Excessive force?

People v. Love (L)

Larceny- Durant's hand- thing of value?

Mayhem- sewing on a cadaver hand? He could have saved and sewed on the correct hand.

Was there malice. Is failure to sew on severing a body part? Did he have a duty-negative act?

Assault/battery- sewing on a cadaver hand?

People v. Xavier (X)

Assault and /or Battery- on Zepher

-defense of others/defense of habitation

-minority vs. majority view (stand in shoes of one to be defended or reasonable mistake of fact)

People v. Yorda (Y)

Assault and/or Battery- on X

-defense of others/ -excessive force?

--minority vs.majority view (stand in shoes of one to be defended or reasonable mistake of fact)

Attempted Murder/Voluntary manslaughter-on X

-defense of others/ excessive force/ malice?

--minority vs.majority view (stand in shoes of one to be defended or reasonable mistake of fact)

Conspiracy- with Zepher to commit a malicious mischief/ larceny of money and again when they decided to reenter and get alcohol (burglary and larceny of alcohol.)

Malicious Mischief- lamps and other items

Larceny—Xavier's $1,000

Burglary-of Xavier's office (breaking, trespassory, office within the curtilage?)/ML vs. CL

Larceny –Xavier's alcohol

Arson-co-conspiratorial culpability (malice? /natural and probable consequence?)/causation-W

- Is intoxication a defense?

Homicide- of Xavier (FMR? wanton, willful disregard?, intent to inflict SBI/GBI?)

-mitigate to voluntary or involuntary manslaughter. Negative acts,duty owed-placed him in peril

People v. Zepher (Z)

Same as Yorda above. Natural and probable consequence?

- Co-conspiratorial culpability for Conspiracy, Malicious Mischief, Larceny X2, burglary, unlawful homicide-on Xavier

People v. Wally (W)

Arson-Xavier's house

Homicide- Xavier- no FMR if arson found. Factual impossibility-Xavier already dead