PROFESSOR(S) NAME:	Rex Grady, Esq.
PROFESSOR CONTACT INFO:	jrg@classattorneys.com
SCHEDULE:	Two-semester class: Fall 2018, Thursdays 6-9:00pm, Room # 103 and Spring 2019, Thursdays 6-9:00pm, Room # 103
PREREQUISITES:	Completion of first-year required coursework.
COREQUISITES:	None
TEXTS AND MATERIALS: (Identification of any texts, materials and references used throughout the course.)	Modern Constitutional Law: Cases & Notes 11th ed. ; by Rotunda West Group ISBN-9781628102222
COURSE DESCRIPTION:	Participants in the course will study the constitutional, historical and policy basis for the federal structure, Judicial review, congressional powers, state powers and federalism, individual liberties, due process, equal protection, and state action doctrine.
COURSE OBJECTIVES / ANTICIPATED LEARNING OUTCOMES: (Description of what students will be expected to know and be able to do at the end of the course. What skills or knowledge will be gained by the end of the course.)	To acquire a rudimentary understanding of the Constitution of the United States and the jurisprudence arising from it, with a primary focus on the doctrines devised to interpret and construe Articles I, II, III, IV, and VI, the Bill of Rights and the Thirteenth, Fourteenth and Fifteenth Amendments. Specifically, students must demonstrate the minimum level of competency for an attorney in California in the subject matter of the Constitution of the United States, including doctrines of and related to Justiciability and Judicial Review, Federalism, Separation of Powers, the Powers and Privileges of the Legislative and Executive Branches of Government, Privileges and Immunity, Federal Supremacy, Procedural and Substantive Due Process, Equal Protection, Powers of the Federal Government and limitations thereon, Freedom of Speech, the Religion Clauses and other elements of the Bill of Rights. Students should expect to spend a minimum of two hours/per hour of instruction time on assigned readings and briefing cases. For

	example, a 3-hour class would require at least 6 hours of outside preparation time per week.
FORMAT OVERVIEW / METHOD OF INSTRUCTION (Description of how the course will be taught, including breakdown of lecture, practicum, etc.)	Approximately sixty pages of reading from the required text will be assigned each week. Students must be prepared for presentations and be able to articulate issues, respond to questions and take part in general discussions related to the assigned material. Course material will be presented in a lecture-discussion and Socratic method format.
EXAMS:	Exams begin promptly at 6 p.m. All students must take examinations as scheduled. It is recognized that in special circumstances and due to emergencies, it may be necessary to schedule delayed examinations. An emergency is defined as a serious illness or injury to the student or a member of his or her immediate family. Special Circumstances are defined as other situations that, in the opinion of the Dean, are sufficient to warrant delay in taking examinations. Any student taking delayed examinations must have the prior written approval of the Dean. No examination may be taken prior to the day of the regularly scheduled examination. If delayed examinations are approved by the Dean, a fee of $75 will be charged for each such exam taken. Failure to complete an exam is not sufficient reason for a late or retake exam. The midterm exam will be cumulative for the first semester. The final exam will be cumulative, covering all course material from both semesters, but focusing primarily on material covered during the second semester.
GRADING / ASSESSMENT CRITERIA/CLASS POLICIES:	Grading will be based on exams and participation. Five percent of a student's grade will be based on participation, which itself will be determined at the Professor's discretion, relying on attendance, briefing of pre-assigned cases and other indicia of attentiveness. Thirty percent of a student's grade will be based on performance on the mid-term's essay questions. Sixty-five percent of a student's grade will be based on performance on the final exam's essay questions. A student must receive no less than sixty-five percent of all points possible, once all calculations have been made, to receive unit credit for the course. Empire College uses the following grading system: Numerically graded classes: 90 – 100 A Outstanding 80 - 89 B Superior 70 - 79 C Satisfactory 65 - 69 D Unsatisfactory 64 and Below Failing/No Credit Only numeric grades in Required courses are used to calculate grade point average.

ATTENDANCE:	Regular and punctual attendance is essential for the successful completion of the course. Students should plan to attend every class. Students must attend a minimum of 80% (36 hours — 12 of 15 classes) of the class sessions during each semester. Roll will be taken at each class. Class attendance is of particular importance in learning the language and concepts of the law. Make-up classes will be scheduled on evenings when classes are not usually held or on weekends or made up on another night by staying longer. Class sessions which are delayed or canceled because of holidays or policy of Empire College School of Law, and which are re-scheduled for a different date are considered regularly scheduled class sessions, not make-up classes. A student who has exceeded the absence limits outlined will be automatically dropped from the course. A student who is dropped from a course will be required to repeat the course at its next offering in order to meet graduation requirements. Attendance has further significance in that it is an opportunity to reinforce understanding of readings and to acquire additional knowledge from lectures and discussions that may prove useful and necessary at the time of examination and beyond.
