COURSE DESCRIPTION:	This course will focus on the Establishment Clause of the First Amendment and how it affects religion in public schools. We will examine various theories and approaches to applying the Establishment Clause, including cases involving religious displays on public property, school vouchers, and school prayer. Special emphasis will be on the creationism-vs.-evolution debate in public school science curricula, from the 1925 Scopes "Monkey Trial" to the 2005 Kitzmiller "Panda Trial" and beyond.
COURSE OBJECTIVES / ANTICIPATED LEARNING OUTCOMES: (Description of what students will be expected to know and be able to do at the end of the course. What skills or knowledge will be gained by the end of the course.)	<ul style="list-style-type: none"> • Students will learn differing opinions, in cases and commentary, of the meaning and original intent of the Establishment Clause. • Students will learn the U.S. Supreme Court's evolving approaches and rationales for interpreting the Establishment Clause in various contexts, including controversies over religious displays on public property, financial assistance to religious organizations, school voucher systems, and school

	prayer. <ul style="list-style-type: none"> • Students will learn core concepts of evolution. • Students will learn core concepts of creationism, including creation science AKA scientific creationism. • Students will analyze judicial treatment of anti-evolution laws. • Students will analyze judicial treatment of “balanced treatment” laws. • Students will learn core concepts of intelligent design. • Students will analyze political, social, and judicial treatment of intelligent design as a subject for public school science classes. • Students will analyze the ongoing creationism-vs.-evolution debate in public school science curricula, including political and social controversies over states’ rights, “balanced treatment” claims, and academic freedom. Students should expect to spend a minimum of two hours/per hour of instruction time on assigned readings and briefing cases. For example, a 3-hour class would require at least 6 hours of outside preparation time per week.
FORMAT OVERVIEW / METHOD OF INSTRUCTION (Description of how the course will be taught, including breakdown of lecture, practicum, etc.)	Course material will be presented in a lecture-discussion format. Students should read all required cases and other assigned materials. Be prepared to discuss all required cases (including concurring and dissenting opinions) and all other readings assigned for each class. Class participation may include occasional short essays written in class in response to questions about the readings and class discussion.
EXAMS:	Exams begin promptly at 6 p.m. Take-home exams and papers must be submitted to the Law School office by 6 p.m. on the due date, unless otherwise noted. All students must take examinations as scheduled. It is recognized that in special circumstances and due to emergencies, it may be necessary to schedule delayed examinations. An emergency is defined as a serious illness or injury to the student or a member of his or her immediate family. Special Circumstances are defined as other situations that, in the opinion of the Dean, are sufficient to warrant delay in taking examinations. Any student taking delayed examinations must have the prior written approval of the Dean. No examination may be taken prior to the day of the regularly scheduled examination. If delayed examinations are approved by the Dean, a fee of $75 will be charged for each such exam taken. Failure to complete an exam is not sufficient reason for a late or retake exam.
GRADING / ASSESSMENT CRITERIA:	Empire College uses the following grading system for electives: Pass/Fail: 65 - 100 - P Pass/Credit 64 and Below - F Fail/No Credit Grading Breakdown: Pass/fail, based on a final project (50%) and class participation (50%). Class participation may include occasional short essays written in class in response to questions about the readings and class discussion. Both the quantity and quality of participation will be considered.

	Note: Topics for the final project must be approved by the instructor, no later than July 25.
ATTENDANCE:	Regular and punctual attendance is essential for the successful completion of law school. Students should plan to attend every class. Students must attend a minimum of 80% of class hours of the class sessions during the semester. Roll will be taken at each class. Make-up classes will be scheduled if needed. Class sessions that are delayed or cancelled because of holidays or policy of Empire College School of Law, and are rescheduled for a different date are considered regularly scheduled class sessions, not make-up classes. A student who has exceeded the absence limits will be automatically dropped from the course.
